

SEDGWICK CLUB CONFERENCE

The Sedgwick Club committee invite you to the fifth annual Sedgwick Club Conference in Cambridge, for a day of exciting talks by academics and poster presentations by Masters & PhD students.

S P E A K E R S

- 13:00 Watching the world's volcanoes
Dr Juliet Biggs, University of Bristol
- 13:40 A better life with a healthy planet:
pathways to net-zero emissions
David Hone, Shell
- 14:50 Listening to the waves beneath the waves:
the evolution of hearing in Cetacea
Dr Travis Park, Natural History Museum
- 15:30 The accretion of the Earth and segregation of its core:
an experimental geochemistry perspective
Dr Eleanor Jennings, Birkbeck, University of London
- 16:40 The Mid-Pliocene warm period as a pseudo-analog for future climate change
Dr Heather Ford, University of Cambridge
- 17:20 Mars: the prohibition planet
(because it's dry, cold and lacking in atmosphere, a bit like my local Spoons)
Dr Jon Wade, University of Oxford

Present a Masters project poster for a chance to win a £50 cash prize awarded by our speakers!

Friday 16th March 2018, 12:00 - 18:00

Department of Earth Sciences, Cambridge

Register online at sedgwickclub.soc.srcf.net

Sedgwick Club
Established 1880